From winter to warmer days

Ulaanbaatar → Bangkok · settle into the city

Before departure

Fly from Chinggis Khaan International Airport (UBN) to Bangkok (BKK). Choose a confirmed itinerary arriving on this day; flight times are still to be checked.

On arrival

Allow time for immigration and bags, then take a prebooked van to your hotel. Plan roughly 45–90 minutes on the road, depending on traffic.

Evening

Keep it easy: a neighborhood dinner, a short walk, and an early night. Stay around Silom or Sathorn near BTS/MRT.

✦*

For 5 adults and luggage, confirm a van has enough seats and baggage space. International flights are budgeted separately.

18:00

Explore Yaowarat in Chinatown for a self-guided food crawl. Share dishes across the group; meals are already covered by the daily food allowance.

The canal price is a planning allowance, not a quote. If it costs more, use public boats and keep the difference.

Morning

Fly Bangkok to Krabi (KBV). Allow roughly 1½ hours in the air plus airport time; choose the actual flight after confirming international tickets.

Afternoon

Take a prebooked van to Ao Nang, roughly 40–60 minutes. Check in and unpack: this is your beach base for the rest of the coastal stay.

Evening

Walk along Ao Nang beach at sunset and choose a simple Thai restaurant a few streets back from the seafront.

Check whether the domestic flight uses BKK or DMK. Bags and airport changes can erase a cheap fare's savings.

Afternoon

Return to Ao Nang with the rest of the day free for swimming, cafés, or a quiet evening.

Let the operator know you are 5 adults so they can arrange suitable kayak seating. Bring sun protection and a dry bag.

Four Islands · snorkeling · sandbars

08:00

Join a shared Four Islands longtail tour. Allow THB 1,000 for the tour plus THB 400 for possible park fees per adult; these are estimates.

Daytime

Visit beach and snorkeling stops chosen by the operator for the tides and weather. Sandbar access is tide dependent.

Late afternoon

Return to Ao Nang. If you prefer fewer boat days, make this a beach day and subtract its activity allowance in your own budget.

✧*

Ask for the total including all park fees, hotel transfers, lunch, and equipment. A private boat may be good value for five, but obtain a quote first.

Morning

Revisit your favorite beach or stay by the pool. This flexible day can absorb a rescheduled excursion.

Afternoon

Enjoy a late lunch, shop for a few souvenirs, and pack without rushing. Personal shopping is outside the budget.

Evening

Share a final seaside dinner. Confirm tomorrow's airport pickup and flight terminal.

✧*

A long stay in one beach base saves packing time and repeated hotel transfers.

Back to Bangkok, with time to spare
Krabi → Bangkok · final overnight stay

Morning

Transfer to KBV and fly back to Bangkok. Prefer arrival at the same airport used by your international departure.

Afternoon

Check into a Bangkok hotel for one night. An airport-area hotel is convenient for an early onward departure.

Evening

Have a final Thai dinner and check in online where available. Pack your cold-weather layer in your hand luggage.

✧*

The overnight buffer reduces the risk from separate domestic tickets. If your international flight leaves early, choose an airport hotel with confirmed transfers.

DAY

Travel day

A suitcase full of sunshine

Bangkok → Ulaanbaatar

At your pace

No activity fee

Before departure

Leave ample time for the airport and aim to arrive about three hours before an international flight. Confirm the correct terminal.

Travel

Fly home on your confirmed itinerary. A connection may mean arriving the next calendar day.

On arrival

Have a warm layer ready for Ulaanbaatar. Your flight's actual arrival date determines the final time away.

The 10–14 days describe the sample calendar plan. Overnight connections may extend the time away; settle the flights before booking hotels.

A little less rushing goes a long way.

Keep the Bangkok overnight before flying home. It gives separate flights some breathing room.

A good time for the coast	Pack for two seasons	Book in the right order	Leave room for real life
January is a popular month for Thailand. Book coastal rooms early, and keep a flexible day for weather changes.	Carry a warm layer for Ulaanbaatar, plus light clothing, temple-appropriate outfits, sun protection, a hat, and a dry bag for boat days.	Confirm international flights first, then domestic flights, rooms, and tours. Check passport-specific entry requirements with official Thai authorities before paying.	Keep the 10% buffer. Compare cancellation terms, avoid tight connections on separate tickets, and let sea conditions guide your boat days.

The honest details: prices, assumptions & sources

Research checked 8 September 2026. January means January 2027. The default draft uses 12–23 January for five adults in three rooms (2 + 2 + 1). Suggested dates are not a verified cheapest itinerary. The planner's 10- and 14-day variants keep the same start date; changing dates recalculates calendar labels, not live prices.

How the budget works. All costs are stored in Thai baht. Each hotel room accommodates at most two adults; odd-number groups have one solo room. The displayed per-person total splits all costs equally. Tours may include meals; a full daily meal allowance is kept as flexibility. International and domestic flights, hotels, transport, most activities, insurance and data are estimates, not quotes. Airline baggage allowances must be checked; the flight budget only sets aside money for them.

Currency conversions. Currently using USD 1 = THB 35, and THB 1 = MNT 100. These are illustrative planning rates, not live foreign-exchange data. Change them under Trip settings. Totals are calculated in THB before conversion and rounding; displayed rounded lines can differ slightly from a rounded total.

What is actually sourced? The Grand Palace and Wat Pho prices are published official ticket prices. Hong Islands and kayaking amounts are operator advertisements. The new Flights & prices section shows Agoda listing amounts returned by Pricewin, with their original VND currency and unresolved price units, plus a Skyscanner published return-fare reference. None confirms a complete five-person booking. Other activity figures are planning allowances; all prices can change.
